

John & Ann Turner in Cambodia

John & Ann Turner are missionaries from Newtownards. John was a teacher in Sullivan Upper School and Ann was a Company Secretary. They have been working in Cambodia with Elim Missions since 2006. John and Ann do not receive any salary and so depend totally upon voluntary support.

In Phnom Penh they lead the Elim Mission where they run two churches, a large day-care centre, a school for Bible Teaching, English, Computers Training and Music. - all of which is free to the Cambodian people.

They also work in the huge city dump area where they help the poorest of the poor. They provide free medical attention to over 200 families on the dump. They also train young women to become house keepers and help reformed sex workers to begin new lives through education and support.

To enable John and Ann to continue with this work, please consider supporting them with a monthly amount. If you decide to, please complete the top and bottom parts of the attached form then send the completed top half of to your bank or building society. Send the completed bottom half to the Elim Missions Office in Newtownards.

John and Ann will send you their illustrated Mission reports. Just send them your email address tick in the box on the form and you will be sent a copy by post.
